Arraigned for Alleged Theft of Dolgin's Tires

Max Long of Boston was arraigned in municipal court in that city Wednesday and charged with receiving stolen tires, having in his possession many tires that had been identified by Harry Dolgin as the ones stolen from his garage at St. Johnsbury Sunday night. The hearing was continued until Aug. 11.

The Boston officers got their tip to visit Mr. Long's furniture store in a telephone call from an unidentified woman who saw tires being loaded into his furniture store. Long claims that he is innocent of any crooked dealings and that he took the tires on commission from a party who gave a plausible reason for having them.

The Boston officers are keeping in close touch with Sheriff Worthen and Chief Finley and expect to make the arrest soon of the party who stole the tires from Mr. Dolgin's garage.

League or No League Declares Cox

Anyone who is false to that oath is more unworthy than the law violator himself.

"Morals cannot easily be produced by statute," Gov. Cox continued in passing to a plea against abuse of the writ of injunction.

Regarding woman suffrage, Gov. Cox urged ratification of the proposed Constitutional amendment, declaring women "are entitled to the privilege of voting as a matter of right, and because they will be helpful in maintaining wholesome and patriotic policy."

His opposition—candidate, platform, leaders and congressional record—were flayed by Gov. Cox in scathing terms throughout his long address. A "Senatorial oligarchy" led by Senator Lodge, Penrose and Smoot, Gov. Cox charged, selected Senator Harding to lead the republicans and fastened into the party platform the creed of bitterness and hate and the vacillating policy that possesses it.

The republicans stand, generally, as scored by the Governor as reactionary and, on the League question, he said the party's candidate was bent on the irreconcilable hostility of Senator Johnson of California. The republican Congress, the Governor asserted, failed to pass a constructive law or to reduce war taxes.

Millions in campaign funds have been gathered for "the reactionary cause," the Governor charged, depicting election of a new administration "under corrupt auspices" and demanding publicity for "the plain truth," regarding all contributions and disbursements. The democrats, he added, would not attempt "to compete by dollars." He warned the country against "cunning devices backed by unlimited prodigal expenditures—to confuse and lure."

Gov. Cox said he took up the democratic standard "a free man, untrammelled by promises."

"We want a change," he said, "from the old world of yesterday where international intrigue made people mere pawns on the chessboard of war. We want a change from the old industrial world where the man who toiled was assured of a 'full dinner pail' as his only lot and portion. We stand at the forks of the road. One leads to higher citizenship, a freer expression of the individual and a fuller life for all. The other leads to reaction, the rule of the few over the many and the restriction of the average man's chances to grow upward. But I have abiding faith that the pitfalls will be avoided and the right road chosen."

The leaders opposed to democracy promise to put the country "back to normal." This can only mean the so-called normal of former reactionary administrations.

"Our view is toward the sunrise of tomorrow. The opposition stands in the skyline of the setting sun, looking backward, at the old days of reaction."

A graceful tribute to President Wilson was paid by Gov. Cox, when, scoring the republican platform for absence of "a line that breathes emotion of pride" in the nation's war achievements, he said that while soldiers fell in the trenches Mr. Wilson "was broken in the enormous labor of his office."

The republican proposed for a separate peace, Gov. Cox declared would be "the most disastrous event in civilization since the Russians made their separate peace with Germany." Citing difficulties in the plan, Gov. Cox said that if accomplished, "No nation in good standing would have anything to do with either of us."

"This plan would not only be a piece of bungling diplomacy, but plain, unadulterated dishonesty, as well," he said, inveighing against any schism without associated powers.

"This act would either be regarded as arrant madness or attempted international bossism," he said.

Discussing domestic questions, Gov. Cox denounced profiteering at length and promised that profiteers should "suffer the penalty of the criminal law."

Fair returns for both capital and labor were advocated, the nominee also approving development of both "into large units...without injury to the public interest." Collective bargaining by labor through its own representatives was approved by the Governor.

Agricultural subjects formed another extensive feature of the candidate's speech, many expedients for agricultural development being advocated, including reduction of tenantry, increased production, cooperative selling as well as purchasing by farmers, establishing of municipal markets and "modern state rural school codes," and increased acreage by irrigation development. He also declared for government regulation of cold storage and a time limit on storage products.

Praising American youth for its war service, Gov. Cox declared that the nation owes a debt to those who died and their dependents and to the wounded, who should be trained and rehabilitated. Also, he said, "we must realize that considerable compensations is due those—who lost much by the break in their material hopes and aspirations."

The Mexican situation, the Governor stated, has been "trying our patience for years," but now begins to show signs of improvement.

"Not the least of the things that have contributed to it," he continued, "is a realization by the people of that country that we have neither lust for their domain, nor disposition to disturb their sovereign rights."

On the railroad question, Gov. Cox advocated giving "a thorough test to private ownership under government regulation, the latter now being accepted," he said. Financial credit for the roads, he stated, should be provided. Discrediting of government operation of the carriers was deplored as "unfair" and "insincere."

"I accept the nomination of our party," he said in conclusion, "obedient to the divine Sovereign of all peoples, and hopeful that by trust in Him the way will be shown for helpful service."

RAILROAD MEN BEAT NEWPORT BY 13 TO 2 SCORE

Boston Y. M. C. A. Team Have Easy Time With Border City Outfit

In a slow and uninteresting game of baseball, the Boston Railroad Y. M. C. A. team easily defeated the Newport aggregation of diamond stars by a score of 13 to 2 in Friday afternoon's game. Much different from the Fourth of July game with these same gentlemen, yesterday's contest was one-sided and created but little interest.

Manager John Prouty made elaborate preparations to win Friday's classic, but despite all of this the local team fell down. With four outside players in the line-up it was hoped that the Newport outfit would appear very formidable. It did—but only on paper. In the field it failed to perform any of the wonders expected.

In the very first inning, Vaughn, one of the stars on the Sherbrooke team, who was playing second base for the local outfit, broke the two bones in his forearm while sliding into first base. He was given first aid by players who were nearby and later was driven to the office of Dr. J. F. Blanchard where his wound was treated. In the sixth session, Don Gray, brother of Morris Gray, was temporarily knocked out when Stevens struck him hard in the stomach as the former slid into the third base. The accident to Vaughn made a deep hole in the infield which was hard to repair.

Boston did not have any better time than they did on their last trip to Newport but they seemed to get all of the breaks that were in the game. All of their runs were gathered in three innings, but as it is said, they "made hay while the sun shone." Their big asset in yesterday's game was John Smith, their pitcher. He played the game every minute and made it difficult for the local batsmen to hit him safely.

Harold Kennison started in the box for Newport but retired at the end of the fourth inning allowing Al Kennison to finish the game. Both men performed well but the Boston boys hit lucky.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Boston 0 0 7 3 0 0 3 0 0—13

TOOK PHYSIC EVERY NIGHT

Then She Heard of "FRUIT-A-TIVES" and Cured Herself of Constipation

MRS. JOHN CAPOZZI

Ashford, New York.

"I feel it my duty to tell you what 'Fruit-a-tives' or Fruit Liver Tablets did for me."

I tried several kinds of physic for over three years; and, of course, while I took it every night my bowels would move; but as soon as I stopped taking physic, I would be constipated and would have Piles terribly.

I heard of 'Fruit-a-tives' and bought one box and took them. Now I am not troubled any more with Constipation and no more Piles. 'Fruit-a-tives' did for me what no other medicine ever did; they left no after-effects, and now I do not have to use physic.

I recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to all my friends."
